

H. Stephen Harris, Jr., a partner with Alston & Bird, is Chair of the firm's Antitrust Practice Group. Mr. Harris has litigated numerous complex cases in federal courts throughout the United States, including the defense of numerous publicly-held corporations in civil and criminal antitrust matters, including class actions and multidistrict litigation.

Mr. Harris has also represented numerous U.S. and non-U.S. companies before antitrust agencies of the U.S. and other jurisdictions, including the European Commission's DG COMP, the Japan Fair Trade Commission, and the antitrust agencies of Brazil. Mr. Harris has arbitrated complex commercial disputes under the rules of the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), the Japan Commercial Arbitration Association (JCAA), and the American Arbitration Association (AAA).

Mr. Harris has been elected a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation. Mr. Harris currently serves as a member of the Council of the American Bar Association's Section of Antitrust Law and a member of the Antitrust Committee of the International Bar Association. He is co-author and Editor-in-Chief of the two volume treatise, Competition Laws Outside the United States, published by the ABA, and the author of the U.S. chapter in International Agency & Distribution Law, published by the Center for International Law. Mr. Harris has been selected for listing in The International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers (antitrust), The Best Lawyers in America (litigation and antitrust), and Chambers USA: America's Leading Business Lawyers (antitrust).

Mr. Harris received a J.D. from Columbia University School of Law in 1982, where he was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar and certified with honors by the Parker School of Foreign and Comparative Law. Mr. Harris received an A.B., magna cum laude, from Cornell University in 1977, where he was a Cornell University College Scholar of the College of Arts & Sciences. Mr. Harris is a member of the bars of the District of Columbia, Georgia, and New York and is admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court, to the United States Courts of Appeal for the District of Columbia, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth and Eleventh Circuits and to numerous United States District Courts.