

Thomas J. Lang
Senior Litigation Counsel
Bureau of Competition
Federal Trade Commission
Washington, DC

Mr. Lang helps lead the Federal Trade Commission's antitrust litigation efforts in both merger and non-merger matters and trains FTC staff attorneys on antitrust litigation skills. Before joining the Federal Trade Commission, Mr. Lang was a Partner in the Antitrust & Competition Practice in the Washington, D.C. office of Kirkland & Ellis LLP where he represented domestic and international clients in complex class action, multi-district, and indirect purchaser antitrust litigation. He is currently a Vice-Chair of the ABA Antitrust Section's Business Torts and Civil Rico Committee, having previously served as a Vice-Chair of the Section's Books & Treatises Committee. Mr. Lang authored the Restraints of Trade chapter of the ABA Antitrust Section's 2003 and 2004 Annual Review of Antitrust Law Developments, and has authored and co-authored a number of articles on antitrust topics. He earned an undergraduate degree from Princeton University, an M.A. from Georgetown University and a J.D. from Cornell Law School. Mr. Lang also served for 15 years as a Military Intelligence Officer in the U.S. Army Reserves and Army National Guard.
