

MAKING HISTORY: Oral History Project Interviews Now Available

With thanks to Thomas Carlyle, if “the history of the world is but the biography of great men,” then certainly the history of antitrust law is but the biography of the great men and women who have contributed so richly to its growth and development. Appreciating this, the ABA Section of Antitrust Law established the Oral History Task Force to permanently capture the perspectives and memories of these great men and women. We are now pleased to announce that nine wonderfully engaging and charming interviews are available on our Web site for your viewing pleasure. To watch these interviews, click on:

<http://www.abanet.org/dch/committee.cfm?com=AT310875>

Have you ever wondered how Chief Judge Douglas H. Ginsburg ended up heading the Antitrust Division? Are you curious about Terry Calvani’s worst professional memory while Chairman of the FTC? Or perhaps you’d like to know more about Janet L. McDavid’s early years as one of only a few female antitrust attorneys? You need not go far to learn the answers to these questions and many more. In addition to discussions with these three luminaries, interviews are available with:

- Michael F. Brockmeyer, the Former Chair, National Association of Attorneys General Multi-State Task Force (interviewed by Federal Trade Commissioner J. Thomas Rosch);
- Thomas E. Kauper, Former Assistant Attorney General for Antitrust, U.S. Department of Justice;
- Robert M. Langer, Former Chair, National Association of Attorneys General Multi-State Task Force;
- Thomas B. Leary, Former Commissioner, Federal Trade Commission;
- Harry M. Reasoner, Former Chair, ABA Section of Antitrust Law; and,
- Edwin M. Zimmerman, Former Assistant Attorney General for Antitrust, U.S. Department of Justice.

The work of this Task Force is far from over and we expect to conduct between ten to fifteen additional interviews in the coming year. We encourage you to take a few moments and review any or all of the above interviews. You will not be disappointed.

—THE ORAL HISTORY TASK FORCE