

Meredith Jackson

Meredith Jackson is the head of the debt finance practice at Irell & Manella, LLP, in Los Angeles, California, where she specializes in complex debt capital transactions, including securitization and other structured finance vehicles. Ms. Jackson also currently serves as Chair of the Secured Lending Subcommittee of the ABA Commercial Financial Services Committee, as Legislative Chair of the California State Bar Business Law Section and as Vice-President of the Financial Lawyers Conference. She was Chair of the Transactional Task Force on Securitization appointed by the Article 9 Drafting Committee. She has guest lectured at Stanford Law School and taught Secured Transactions as a Adjunct Professor of Law at Hastings College of the Law. Ms. Jackson has published several articles on topics ranging from new-asset securitization to security interests in intellectual property.