

Two Judicial Guides to Handling Child Custody and Parental Kidnapping Cases

Patricia Hoff, a consultant to the Center, Adrienne Volenik, director of the Mental Disability Law Clinic at the T.C. Williams School of Law, University of Richmond, and Dr. Linda Girdner, director of research at the Center, have developed a publication entitled "Jurisdiction in Child Custody and Abduction Cases: A Judge's Guide to the UCCJA, PKPA, and the Hague Child Abduction Convention." This Guide is published, along with a "Judges' Guide to Criminal Parental Kidnapping Cases," authored by Eva Klain while a staff attorney with the American Prosecutors Research Institute's National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse Parental Kidnapping Project (and now with our Center), in 48(2) Juvenile and Family Court Journal. This is a quarterly publication of the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges.

This publication, Volume 48(2) of the Juvenile and Family Court Journal, is available at a cost, for those not members of the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges, of $25.00 (member cost is $20.00). Their phone number is: 775/784-6012.
