

Roger D. Feldman

Partner

r.feldman@bingham.com

T. 202.778.6150

Roger D. Feldman is a Partner at Bingham McCutchen. Throughout his 30-year career, Mr. Feldman has been actively involved in all aspects of contracting for and financing energy, environmental and infrastructure projects. He served as Co-chair of the Projects and Structured Finance Group, which closed more than 200 transactions worldwide with an aggregate value of more than $40 billion. He has served as lead counsel in numerous, successfully-financed IPP and merchant power project financings, acquisitions and portfolio divestitures in the U.S. and overseas, and advised lenders, project developers and rating agencies with respect to many others.

Mr. Feldman has also provided counsel for a wide range of energy and environmental regulatory issues impacting proposed transactions. He has represented electric utility and independent energy trade associations in diverse rulemakings, a rating agency on its analysis of independent power projects, and the Department of Energy in its largest proposed project financing.

Mr. Feldman has been involved in the financing of many types of alternative energy projects, including biomass, waste-to-energy, wind, and landfill gas. Currently, he is active in the development and finance of distributed generation projects and companies, and is active in related industry affairs, including:

- asset acquisitions and contractual obligation divestitures in the deregulated electric power market
- development of several distributed generation projects using emerging technologies
- implementation of several proposed innovative risk management programs and products to facilitate structured and project financings.

Mr. Feldman has served as Deputy Administrator for Finance and Environment of the Federal Energy Administration, on the Environmental Protection Agency's Financial Advisory Board and on the White House Staff.

He has participated in several projects with respect to the restructuring or refinancing of distressed energy projects, and represented parties acquiring and selling such projects.

- Professional Affiliations and Admissions
- Chairman Emeritus, National Council for Public-Private Partnerships
 - Chair, Finance Committee of the Northeast Energy and Commerce Association
 - Former Chair, American Bar Association Committee on Energy Law, Alternate Energy Sources and Energy Finance
 - Former Chair, D.C. Bar Association Committee on International Finance and Investment.

Publications

- Serves on the Editorial Board and is published regularly in The Journal of Project Finance and in Strategic Planning for Energy and the Environment
- Feature columnist for Merchant Power Monthly, Power Executive and The Construction Business Review

Awards and Honors

- Editor, Yale Law Journal
- Named Cogeneration Professional of the Year by the Association of Energy Engineers
- Recipient, Leadership Award of The National Council for Public-Private Partnerships

Education

- Yale Law School, Juris Doctor, 1965
- Brown University, Bachelor of Arts, summa cum laude, 1962
- Harvard University, Master of Business Administration, With Distinction, 1967