Teleconference/Slide Webcast Presentation CLE Series

A Cost Effective Way to Learn Environmental Litigation Basics and Get CLE Credits without Leaving Your Office

The Section is pleased to introduce a new monthly teleconference series focusing on key issues, concepts and approaches that arise in various types of environmental litigation (civil, criminal, administrative, and private party). These programs will provide participants with the ability to understand and develop techniques from seasoned trial lawyers which are essential to preparing and trying environmental cases. This is a unique opportunity for those interested in learning basic litigation concepts underlying environmental cases, as well as an opportunity for more experienced practitioners to refresh and update their knowledge. PowerPoint slides will be presented to attendees simultaneously over the internet through a slide webcast presentation. Logistics associated with teleconference and slide webcast will be provided with your confirmation of registration. Each program will feature a live Q&A session.

Session 4: Evidence Issues Including Demonstrative Evidence and E-Discovery February 13, 2007 12:00 p.m. – 1:30 p.m. (Eastern Time)

Program Description:

This teleconference will provide an overview of the latest decisions regarding evidentiary issues arising in environmental judicial and administrative proceedings under the various federal environmental statutes, but equally applicable to cases before state courts pursuant to common law claims. This panel will also focus on the cutting edge developments in e-discovery and electronic evidence, including conflicts between document destruction policies and evidentiary retention requirements, the presence of meta data that could allow inadvertent sharing of information from prior drafts and computer forensics in general. With this teleconference, you will get perspectives from practitioners representing both government and industry interests and hear practitioners provide insights and practice tips on the basic evidentiary issues.

Educational Objectives:

- Review recent court rulings regarding evidentiary issues.
- Learn the current status of e-discovery and electronic evidentiary issues.

Faculty:

Moderator:

Steven P. Solow, Hunton & Williams LLP, Washington, DC

Featured Speakers:

James Kilbourne, Chief, Appellate Section, Environment & Natural Resources Division, U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, DC

John M. Patzakis, Vice Chairman and Chief Legal Officer, Guidance Software, Inc., Pasadena, CA

CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION CREDITS

CLE Accreditation has been requested for each of the teleconference programs from every state with mandatory continuing education requirements for lawyers. Please be aware that each state has its own rules and regulations, including its definition of "CLE." Check with your state agency for confirmation of this program's approval. Attendees from Indiana, Delaware, Kansas, Ohio and Pennsylvania may have difficulty obtaining credit for teleconference programs. Please verify with your state before registering. CLE credit will only be provided to paid registrants who dialed into the telephone conference and who return the required affidavit to the American Bar Association. No exceptions will be made. If you have questions about CLE, please call the Section office at (312) 988-5791.

CANCELLATION

Registrants (excluding law students) may request a refund of $35 per cancelled program. Refund requests must be submitted in writing to ConferTel. Substitutions are acceptable but must be submitted to ConferTel in writing (via fax at (760) 931-0079) at least 24 hours prior to the program in order to ensure appropriate MCLE accreditation. Law students may request a full refund as long as written cancellation is submitted at least 24 hours prior to the start of the program.
