Adoption Case Summaries for 2003

Harlan S. Tenenbaum, chair of the section's Adoption Committee, arranged a compendium of adoption law related cases. The case descriptions have been prepared by the Dave Thomas Center for Adoption Law at Capital University Law School. The compendium is also available on the Online Resource Library, and is a good example of the types of content we are looking to receive from our members.

Best of the Listserv

We have picked several interesting topics of discussion from the ESQ listserv for April's best of the listserv. Read more.

Upcoming CLE and Events Information

San Juan Meeting Time – Last Minute Notes

We will be in Puerto Rico in less than two weeks. A record number of attendees are expected to attend this year's spring conference, selling out our hotel block.

The Working Group on Same-Sex Marriages and Non-Marital Unions will present their white

This month's featured benefit:

The Annual Family Law Trial Advocacy Institute

Are you a new family law practitioner or a seasoned veteran? If you're just starting out or simply want to brush up on your trial skills, this program is for you!

The Annual Trial Advocacy Institute is an intense, eight-day program held every May at the University of Houston Law Center during the last full week in May.

The program sells out quickly, so start thinking about next year, and mark your calendars to check out the family law web site for additional information in early February at www.abanet.org/family.

What's in it for you?

Individual attention: Limiting enrollment to 48 attorneys provides you with a ratio of one faculty member to every four students.

CLE Credits: You can expect to earn 45 paper to the Section's Council for approval.

This is your last chance to view the proposed amendments to Section Bylaws. Members will vote on April 30, 2004.

2004 ABA Annual Meeting

Time to start thinking about the ABA Annual Meeting – the early bird deadline is May 28th. You should be receiving your family law specific registration forms in your next issue of the Family Advocate. For more information, or to register online, please visit us at www.abanet.org/annual/2004.

attending this program.

Hands-On Experience: Participate in exercises, break-out groups and a final mock trial.

Here's what people are saying about the program:

"A truly outstanding week of learning the art of trial advocacy. In a week, I gained at least five years' worth of experience."

Sal Simeone
East Hanover, NJ

"This was the most intensive training experience I have ever had – in the field of family law or any other field. I believe I learned more this week than any other week."

Susheela Varky
Washington, D.C.

"You'll see me at trial. Bring in on."
