

ABA Section of Litigation Darfur Legal Training Project

Faculty and Contributors List

Darfur Project Phase II - 2008

Kim Askew, K&L Gates, Dallas, Texas, is a partner who represents clients in complex commercial and employment litigation. She has successfully tried cases to jury verdicts in her primary areas of practice in state and federal district courts around the country and handled appeals before the Texas Court of Appeals and the Fourth, Fifth and Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. She is a long time leader in the State Bar of Texas and the American Bar Association and a frequent writer and speaker on discovery, evidentiary issues, business litigation and employment law.

Jeffrey Beaver, Graham & Dunn PC, Seattle, Washington, is a partner who focuses on condemnation, financial institutions and commercial litigation. He has tried numerous multi-million dollar cases and has obtained verdicts or settlements for property owners in the area's largest eminent domain cases. He has successfully defended a client against a one billion dollar damages claim in the salmon industry. Prior to practice, he clerked for Hon. Jerome Farris, US Court of Appeals Ninth Circuit. He writes and speaks frequently on issues of real estate and eminent domain.

Jacqueline Becerra, Greenberg Traurig, Miami, Florida, practices in the areas of complex commercial litigation, internal corporate investigations and securities litigation and arbitration. As Trial Attorney for the DOJ in D.C., she handled complex civil matters and as Assistant US Attorney in Florida, she was responsible for all aspects of federal prosecution including oversight of undercover operations and confidential informants.

Terree Bowers, Howrey LLP, Los Angeles, California, is a partner in the Securities Litigation, Government Enforcement and White Collar Defense Practice Group. He is a former US Attorney for the Central District of California and prosecuted high profile cases such as the Rodney King civil rights trial and the Charles Keating/Lincoln Savings and Loan fraud trial. He also served as a representative from US DOJ to the Office of the Prosecutor for the ICTY (Yugoslavia) as part of an investigative team in Bosnia at the height of the conflict to investigate allegations of genocide. He was appointed the Legal Coordinator of the Investigation section and drafted and implemented the first charging/indictment guidelines and chaired the Indictment Review Committee and supervised legal advisors and investigative teams and advised the Prosecutor. He received his J.D. from the University of Texas School of Law.

Brad Brian, Munger, Tolles & Olson, L.L.P., Los Angeles, California, is a partner specializing in complex civil and criminal litigation. He is a former Assistant U.S. Attorney in Los Angeles. He has conducted more than one hundred internal investigations and is the co-editor of the book entitled "Internal Corporate Investigations" (ABA 2d ed. 2002). He taught trial advocacy at the University of Southern California Law Center, Harvard Law School's trial advocacy program, and the National Institute for Trial Advocacy.

Genevieve Cox, Munger, Tolles & Olson, L.L.P., San Francisco, California, is an associate practicing in the areas of intellectual property, white collar criminal defense, and general civil litigation. She served as a law clerk to the Honorable Alvin A. Schall, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and the Honorable Marilyn L. Huff on the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California. She received her J.D. from Stanford Law School, where she studied international and human rights law and was a member of the Stanford Journal of International Law.

Jeffrey Eglash, Senior Counsel, Investigations/Compliance, General Electric Company, , Fairfield, Connecticut, oversees internal investigations and government investigations, and develops compliance programs and procedures to ensure employees adhere to all laws and to GE's code of conduct. He was a law firm partner specializing in civil, criminal, and regulatory enforcement proceedings and internal corporate investigations. He also has served as Inspector General of the LA Police Department responsible for providing civilian oversight, including investigating and reviewing officer-involved shootings and major use of force incidents, monitoring the Department's internal disciplinary system, ensuring compliance with a federal civil rights consent decree, and auditing various Department operations and procedures. He was an Assistant US Attorney in LA, prosecuting cases of police corruption, defense contractor fraud, environmental crimes, drug trafficking and money laundering.

Dean JoAnne Epps, Temple University Beasley School of Law, Philadelphia, Penn. As a Professor of Law, she taught Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Evidence and Advocacy. She regularly teaches advocacy programs for various institutions and has taught Evidence and Advocacy in China, Japan, and at the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda. She was a Deputy City Attorney for the City of Los Angeles and an Assistant U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. She is active in the American Bar Association and other legal organizations and a member of the American Law Institute, a member of the Board of Directors of the Defender Association of Philadelphia (President from 1997-2005) and is a former member of the Board of Directors of Womens Way. She also served as Vice Chair of the Pennsylvania Gender Task Force and a member of the Third Circuit Task Force on Equal Treatment in the Courts. A sports fan, Professor Epps served from 1994-2006 as Temple University's Faculty Representative to the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

T. Markus Funk, Assistant U.S. Attorney, Chicago, Illinois, is in the International Drug Cartel, Organized Crime, and Major Cases divisions. He successfully prosecuted, among others, the nation's largest counterfeiting case; nation's then-largest identity fraud case; Chicago's most extensive gun-running case. He served as the Resident Legal Advisory in Pristina, Kosovo Section Chief of the U.S. Department of Justice's Kosovo Program and advised Chief of Mission, UN personnel, Kosovar politicians and judges on how to improve Kosovo's criminal justice sector and handle war crime and organized crime cases, brought together Serb and Kosovar prosecutors with aim of addressing 3,000+ unsolved war crimes cases and offered technical advice to international war crimes prosecutors. He is a candidate for D.Phil. (Ph.D.) in Law, Oxford University (New College), Oxford, England.

Laura Ariane Miller (Laurie), Nixon Peabody LLP, Washington, D.C. is chair of the Government Investigations and White Collar Defense Practice. Her practice includes white collar criminal defense for corporations, corporate executives, non-profit institutions and individuals. She represents clients in congressional hearings and investigations, in grand jury proceedings and in federal and state courts throughout the nation. She has worked in all three branches of the federal government, including at the Office of Management and Budget, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and U.S. Administration for Children, Youth and Families. She served as law clerk to Justice Byron R. White at the U.S. Supreme Court.

Hon. Nan R. Nolan, United States Magistrate Judge for the Northern District of Illinois, has served in this position since in 1998. She began her legal career as a staff attorney for the Federal Defender Program in Chicago. She then worked in private practice where she gained extensive experience handling complex criminal cases.

Laurence M. Rose (Lonny), National Institute for Trial Advocacy, is NITA President and CEO and Professor of Law Emeritus at the University of Miami School of Law. He served as a law clerk to Chief Judge James Holden, U.S. District Court of Vermont and then was in private practice. He also served as Executive Director of the Douglas County (KS) Legal Aid Society and as a Special Assistant to U.S. Attorney in Florida. He has taught trial advocacy around the world and authored more than 100 books, articles and other legal publications.

Jerome (Jerry) Roth, Monger, Tolles & Olson, L.L.P., San Francisco, California, is a partner specializing in complex business litigation, international litigation and white collar criminal defense. He served a federal prosecutor in New York for five years prosecuting white collar crime, organized crime and narcotics cases. He is the Secretary of the American section of the Union Internationale Des Avocats. He also has lectured extensively on criminal law issues, including at Boalt Law School and to foreign lawyers.

D. Grayson Yeargin, Nixon Peabody LLP, Washington, D.C., is a member of the Government Investigations and White Collar Defense Practice. He represents companies, organization and individuals in matters involving government investigations, grand jury proceedings, and civil and criminal litigation. He served as a judicial clerk for the Honorable Cameron M. Currie at the United States District Court for the District of South Carolina. He then spent several years practicing complex civil litigation and criminal defense at another Washington firm.

Additional Faculty and Contributors:

Paolina Massidda – Principal Counsel, Office of Public Counsel for Victims, ICC

Essa Faal – Senior Trial Lawyer, Prosecution Division, Office of the Prosecutor, ICC

Ian Lane – Acting Counsel, Trust Fund for Victims, ICC

Jehanne Henry – Africa Division, Human Rights Watch