No matter your caregiver capacity, what must you consider to make an informed choice about how and when to return to the workforce? What are the steps you should take? Consider the stories and pointers of people who left their jobs to manage a life change and came back in three very different capacities (part-time, full-time, and left entirely and then returned). The panel will also address leave preparations, tips on easing back into work, and overcoming related anxieties, including coworker tension from the expectation that they help with your workload.
