

MEMORANDUM

Greetings!

Thank you for downloading the agreement form for the electronic version of the YourLaw client newsletter. The electronic version offers you the opportunity to use the articles contained in the printed version of YourLaw and tailor them to meet the special needs and interests of your firm and your clients. The result is your own personalized newsletter, with much of the work provided by the ABA.

The disk subscription works the same as the print version. For an annual subscription fee of $500.00, you will receive the text of each of the articles from the four issues of YourLaw: one set of articles for each season of the year. (NOTE: Graphics are not included with electronic subscriptions.) Our objective is to provide you with newsletter services that help build the visibility, goodwill, and professional reputation of your firm.

To become a subscriber, print and sign two copies of the agreement form. Return two copies with original signatures to us with your invoice and $500.00 subscription payment. One copy of the agreement form will be returned to you that includes the authorizing signature of the ABA Director of Copyrights and Contracts. If you have additional questions, please contact us at 312-988-5735 or YourLaw@staff.abanet.org.

We look forward to providing this service to you!

Best regards,

YOUR LAW CLIENT NEWSLETTER TEAM
American Bar Association Division for Public Education

YOURLAW AGREEMENT FORM

(hereinafter referred to as the “Buyer”), regarding the use of material from the ABA electronic publication entitled YourLaw:

REPRODUCTION RIGHTS. Subject to the terms and conditions herein set forth, the Seller grants to the Buyer a one-year nonexclusive license to publish articles in four YourLaw received by the Buyer via e-mail for a $500 annual subscription fee. The articles may be used as written or modified to reflect state and local law or the focus of Buyer’s practice. They may be reproduced in print format and electronic e-mail newsletters and made available to Buyer’s clients and potential clients. The articles may not be included in a newspaper for distribution to the public. The text of the articles, whether modified or not, may not be used by any person or organization other than the Buyer, regardless of the profit or not-for-profit purpose of such other use, without a written license from the ABA.

GRAPHICS. This license does not extend to the reproduction or use of illustrations, photographs, cartoons, or other graphics that may appear in the print or diskette versions of YourLaw published by the ABA.

ABA NAME AND LOGO. The Buyer’s publication will not display the ABA name or logo or any recognizable modification of the name or logo or refer to ABA involvement in the preparation of the article. The Buyer is solely responsible for the content of the articles whether modified or not.
