WELCOME

Dear Colleagues:

One of the benefits of a busy year as Chair of TIPS is the right to decide the location of the Fall Meeting. In my case, all points led to San Francisco: my home town, blessed with good Fall weather, easy access to two major airports, a favorite destination of TIPsters, and most importantly a large and diverse legal community. Our hotel is the Westin St. Francis, in the heart of Union Square. Both the hotel lobby and Union Square are newly renovated and only steps away from one of the most famous shopping districts in the world.

Although most of you have visited San Francisco often, Arrangements Chair Sue Popik has selected social venues that will make this meeting both fun and different. The festivities will begin Thursday, after an excellent CLE program presented by three well-known jury consultants, with a reception and wine tasting presented by the Committee on Diversity in the Profession. After that reception, the festivities will continue with a welcome reception at Armani Café.

Our Friday morning CLE programs on the tips, tools, and tricks of mediation and trial skills, taught by professional actors, will flow into a Corporate Counsel lunch featuring an entertaining speaker. Lunch will be followed by more trial skills training, golf (for those so inclined) and the Task Force on Plaintiffs' Involvement reception. Bring your dancing shoes for the Friday night Salsa Hospitality—where Danilo and his Salsa/Latin Jazz Quintet will end our busy day!

After Saturday's diverse CLE menu (graphics and technology in the courtroom, ethics, and a second mediation panel), we will leave the hotel in late afternoon for an Italian dinner and nightclubbing in another famous San Francisco neighborhood, North Beach. Dress casually and join us at Club Fugazi for a performance of Beach Blanket Babylon, a zany ever-changing musical pop-culture spoof and San Francisco's longest running hit musical review.

October temperatures for San Francisco average a high of 70 and low of 52. As always, bring layers of clothing—as October can mean warm days and cool nights. See you in San Francisco on October 27, 2005!

Very truly yours,

Sandra R. McCandless
Chair, Tort Trial & Insurance Practice Section

Dear Colleagues,

Join us for a gold mine of CLE seminars where experienced, professional actors will teach you how to sharpen your communication skills and find the compelling stories in your cases. Jury consultants will guide you through effective trial preparation and teach you to effectively use focus groups, while staying within your budget. Skilled mediators will teach you their tips, tools and tricks of the trade. Go beyond PowerPoint and discover the latest in demonstrative evidence for cases of all sizes. Using an interactive and entertaining format, ethics gurus will guide you on practical issues arising in daily practice. While you may leave your heart in San Francisco, you certainly won't leave without practical ways to enhance your practice. Join us to hone your skills and perfect your wit before you return home from this beautiful City by the Bay!

Yours truly,

Jan Mulligan
Fall Meeting Program Chair

Dear Fellow TIPsters,

I am pleased and honored to have been asked by Section Chair Sandy McCandless to serve as the Arrangements Chair for the Fall Meeting in San Francisco. For those of you who have never been here, you have a treat in store as you get a first-hand look at such famous sights as the Golden Gate Bridge, Alcatraz, and the crookedest street in the World.

For the newbies and old-timers alike, we have planned an array of unique social events. We kick off on Thursday, October 27, with a special wine tasting reception featuring the wines of Van Der Heyden Vineyards, a family-owned winery in the Napa Valley. Our Welcome Reception that night will be held at the Armani Café, located inside the Giorgio Armani boutique on Union Square. When was the last time you ate and drank within spilling distance of a mannequin wearing a $3,000 jacket? Pace yourself, though, because on Friday, you'll want to attend all four of our events: the Corporate Counsel lunch, featuring remarks by Ed Goines, General Counsel for the 49ers; the golf tournament at the beautiful Presidio Golf Course; the Plaintiff Involvement Task Force reception; and salsa dancing at our Sponsor/Patron Appreciation Hospitality. And we've saved the best for last: On Saturday night, we'll all head to North Beach for a family-style dinner at The Stinking Rose, home to the world's longest garlic braid and thousands of other garlic-themed curiosities. Following dinner, we'll attend an almost-private performance of Beach Blanket Babylon, a fabulously entertaining send-up of pop culture, and proof that political incorrectness is alive and well in San Francisco. BBB has been selling out 8 performances a week for over 30 years, so they must be doing something right!

A final word from (and for) the food-obsessed: San Francisco is truly a food-lover's paradise. Whether your idea of gourmet heaven is finding the perfect naan or pho in a hole-in-the-wall dive or feasting on a 9-course tasting menu complete with wine pairings, we've got it. From Afghani to Vietnamese, and everything in between, we've got it. You can get more information about the dining scene, including recommendations for restaurants and a couple of good food guides, on the TIPS Web site. Don't forget to book early if you want to eat at one of the high-end places.

I look forward to sharing my favorite city with you.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 2005

11:30 a.m.–1:30 p.m.

Corporate Counsel Luncheon For All Attendees

Sponsored by Corporate Counsel Committee. Co-sponsored by Forum on the Entertainment and Sports Industries.

This interactive lunch attended by TIPS leaders and in-house and outside attorneys from the San Francisco Bay Area and around the country will feature Ed Goines, Vice President Business Affairs and General Counsel for the San Francisco 49ers (five-time Super Bowl winner). Ed has had an enviable legal career—a succession of desirable in-house positions culminating in the top legal job at one of the oldest major professional sports franchises on the West Coast. We will learn from Ed what it is like to work in-house for a major sports franchise: how it is similar to but different from other legal jobs and what a major sports franchise expects from outside counsel. Following an interview of Ed by TIPS Chair Sandra McCandless of San Francisco, Ed will answer questions from the audience. This event is sponsored by the generous support of Navigant Consulting.

Ticketed Event: The lunch is included in the CLE Pass for $215 or you may purchase a ticket for lunch only for $50 per person.

1:15 p.m.

Golf - Shotgun Start

Walking through the Presidio Golf Course is a walk through San Francisco history. For more than a century, the tree-lined track, only minutes from the Golden Gate Bridge, was used only by the military and a small private club, whose stately clubhouse still provides the backdrop for the ninth green. The golf event is scheduled to give you an opportunity to attend the Corporate Counsel lunch.

Ticketed Event: $170 per person (includes transportation)

5:30 p.m.–7:00 p.m.

Reception: Task Force on Plaintiffs' Involvement

Complimentary for attendees

Mary Alexander of Mary Alexander & Associates, P.C. will receive the ABA Tort Trial & Insurance Practice Section's Pursuit of Justice Award. This event is sponsored by the generous support of LawFinance Group, Inc.

10:00 p.m.–11:30 p.m.

Sponsor/Patron Appreciation Night and Dancing

Put on your dancing shoes and get ready to dance the night away as Danilo and his Salsa/Latin Jazz Quintet bring you the best mix of music from the Caribbean and Latin America. You won't want to miss this special evening, which will honor our sponsors and patrons.

This event is complimentary for all attendees.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2005

6:00 a.m.–7:00 a.m.

Fun Run/Walk

Ticketed Event: $25 per person

5:00 p.m.–6:30 p.m.

Dinner at The Stinking Rose: A Garlic Restaurant and Beach Blanket Babylon

A fun and kitschy testament to the aromatic bulb for which it is named, the restaurant serves over 3,000 pounds of garlic each month. We'll dine family style on several of TSR's Cal-Italian favorites surrounded by the garlic memorabilia that festoons every nook and cranny of the dining rooms. Beach Blanket Babylon is nothing short of a San Francisco Institution. Running continuously since June 1974—and sold out for most of its performances—BBB is an outrageously funny musical spoof of pop culture. If it's in the headlines, it's fodder for BBB's special brand of parody and extravagant costuming. You must be 21 to attend the show.

Ticketed Event:

Dinner & Show: $100 per person. The price includes transportation and busses depart from the hotel at 4:30 p.m.

Dinner only: $65 per person – Dinner is 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

9:30 a.m.–11:30 a.m. HOW TO WIN AT MEDIATION: TIPS, TOOLS & TRICKS OF THE TRADE

Sponsored by Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee. Co-sponsored by Insurance Coverage Litigation Committee.

Trial is a once-a-year experience for many litigators and once-in-a-lifetime for some. But mediations take place nearly every month. Mediation advocacy requires skills different from those necessary to conduct depositions or trials, and litigators need to take those skills to the next level to keep clients satisfied. This program is an in-depth exploration of those skills, in a practical, hands-on, interactive format that will teach you how to put or keep more money in your client's pocket.

Topics include:

- Picking mediators: When talent is a plus, and when it isn't
- The many legitimate purposes of mediation. And a few that are not.
- Preparation: Managing client expectations, manipulating mediator expectations
- The effective Opening Session: How to impress the opposition without riling up your own client
- Using Caucus to reestablish lost client control: Strategic uses of honesty, time management and settlement authority
- When to caucus with other counsel and the mediator alone: The last refuge of desperation and sometimes even candor
- Closing the deal: Huffing, puffing, and walking out—and the fine art of the grumbling acceptance
- Documenting the deal: Malpractice avoidance essentials—for mediators and litigators alike
- Follow-up: Where real mediators set themselves apart from wannabes
