

The American Bar Association
Standing Committee on Law and National Security
General Practice, Solo and Small Firm Division
Government and Public Sector Lawyers Division
Senior Lawyers Division
Young Lawyers Division
Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice Section
Criminal Justice Section
Section of Individual Rights and Responsibilities
Section of International Law
Section of Science & Technology Law
Judge Advocates Association

Present at the ABA Annual Meeting

GWOT vs. SAVE or a New Legal Framework? Is it a Global War on Terrorism or a Struggle Against Violent Extremism?

Friday, August 10, 2007 9:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.
San Francisco Marriott
55 Fourth Street, San Francisco, CA
Pacific Suite 1, 4th Floor

What capabilities will the US need over the long-term to meet the challenge of international terrorism and global violence? What is the nature of the threat and what is the legal framework for the long-term struggle to defeat terrorism? Do we have the capabilities (policies, resources, institutions) needed to implement strategies? In what context is the use of military force the most effective tool or what other tools should be brought to bear?

Welcome: Al Harvey, Chair, ABA Standing Committee on Law and National Security

Moderator: Harvey Rishikof, National War College, Washington, DC

Panelists: Kenneth Wainstein, Assistant Attorney General, National Security Division, Washington, DC
Gregory Nojeim, Center for Democracy & Technology, Washington, DC
Abraham D. Sofaer, Hoover Institution, Stanford, CA
Elise Groulx-Diggs, President, International Criminal Defence Lawyers, Montreal
David Rivkin, Baker Hostetler, Washington, DC
Elizabeth Rindskopf Parker, Dean, McGeorge School of Law, Sacramento, CA